Namibia.

How often do you need to visit this unique country before you know it? How long does it take to become one with its culture, to take in its soul, to grasp its grand natural wonders?

Some say it takes a lifetime. We say it takes at least twenty times. Because in 1995 we started to turn historic farms into nature reserves and fabulous themed lodges. Always in close proximity to one of the country's spectacular sights. Each of them with a character of its own. Each of them an experience in itself. There are eighteen of them to date. Managed in accordance with the strict regulations of nature conservation and sustainable utilisation. Together they are the Gondwana Collection, the mirror image of a wonderful country.

Gondwana is not a hotel chain. We want to be hosts and become friends. Unforgettable moments in the history, nature and animal world of Namibia. Adventure at your fingertips. And when you return from our breathtaking safaris and trails the second part of a great day starts with indulgence and getting spoilt, with culinary treats and serene tranquillity.

That is the Gondwana feeling. Namibia with heart and soul.
